ST HUGH'S COLLEGE OXFORD

THE CHAPEL
MICHAELMAS TERM 2018

THE CHAPEL SERVICE ON SUNDAYS

6.15pm CHORAL EVENSONG

All members of College, their guests, and the public are welcome at our services of Choral Evensong or Eucharist held each Sunday during Full Term. The Evensong service is in the beautiful Oxford tradition of the Book of Common Prayer with choral responses. Those present are warmly invited to sherry or juice and supper in College following each service.

A CHORAL EUCHARIST (also called MASS and HOLY COMMUNION) is celebrated in Chapel once or more per Term on a Sunday evening.

We are an inclusive Christian community, accepting one another as equally made in God's image. Those uncertain about their beliefs will find space without pressure in our services, alongside those whose faith is deepening. Those without religious beliefs, and members of other faiths, are also very welcome. The Chapel is open daily for quiet prayer and meditation. Those of all faiths and none are invited to use our MULTI-FAITH PRAYER AND QUIET ROOM located in the Wolfson Building at the foot of Staircase 3.

A CHAPEL COMMITTEE is drawn from all three Common Rooms to consider the life of the Chapel and to plan for subsequent Terms. Please see 'Who's Who' overleaf for help in contacting us with comments, questions, or ideas.

The Chaplain is available for COUNSELLING and to hear CONFESSIONS. The Chapel also offers BAPTISMS, CONFIRMATIONS, and WEDDINGS. A CATHOLIC MASS is held in Chapel once per Term. FOR OTHER CHAPEL ACTIVITIES AND SERVICES see the notice boards in the Chapel entrance, outside the JCR, and on our website (address overleaf).

'OXFORD'S OPPORTUNITIES'

Oxford University life can profitably be thought of as consisting of a series of diverse and enriching opportunities. We spend the greatest amount of time engaging with our chosen subjects and disciplines, both excited and challenged by the acquisition and mastery of new information. We also meet sundry new people, a great majority of whom will be studying different subjects than ours, and who all come with distinct backgrounds, sets of interests, viewpoints, orientations, and beliefs. People of the Christian faith gave birth to Oxford's University with its great academic endeavours, and most of its colleges, including ours. That same faith, and the faith of all religions and none, have occasion here to exist together amidst this stimulating scene of opportunities. This Term we shall explore various ideas with our speakers, including a wonderful opportunity to worship and eat together with our Muslim friends. We shall end the Term with the ever popular Advent Carols, before departing for the Christmas vacation.
